

VOLKSWAGEN

GROUP CHINA

Company Profile

Volkswagen Group is one of the earliest and most successful international automakers in China's automobile industry. The Group has grown together with China's auto industry, overcoming many challenges and achieving significant growths, during the 30 years' partnership with China.

The business scope of Volkswagen Group in China includes the production, sales and services of complete vehicles and parts, such as engines and transmissions. All of the Group auto brands — including Volkswagen, Audi, ŠKODA, SEAT, Bentley, Bugatti, Lamborghini, Porsche, Ducati, Volkswagen Commercial Vehicles, Scania and MAN — have a business presence in China its subsidiaries.

Strategy 2018 is guiding us to becoming the world's top employer by 2018, as well as China's most successful, innovative and sustainable automaker.

With the "Ren Wei Ben" (people-oriented) strategy, Volkswagen Group China is driving to become a truly people oriented car company.

Our Values:

Respect & Partnership
Customer Nearness
Top Performance
Add Values
Renewability
Responsibility
Sustainability
Transparency & Openness

Location: Beijing

Duration: 6 months

Position:

Start of internship: 04.2017

Are you highly motivated with potential to develop yourself? Do you want to have a look under the pot-lid of automotive company? Then we are looking for you!

Your Responsibilities:

- Research of national & regional vehicle recycling relevant legislation
- Status research regarding end-of-life vehicle recycling market China
- Preparation & organization of team meeting/discussion
- Data analyse and result presentation

Our Requirements:

- Current bachelor or master student from renowned university majoring in Environmental Engineering/Science or related fields
- Familiar with MS Office (especially PowerPoint, Excel & Word)
- High motivation and openness for learning new skills
- Proactive, team-minded and independent working style
- Proficient communication skill within an intercultural and international organization
- Language skills: excellent knowledge in Chinese & English, German knowledge preferred

What we offer:

- Strong brands, excellent products and image
- Good management, team work, open communication & feedback
- Remuneration 150 RMB/day for Bachelor and 180 RMB/day for Master students gross
- International working environment & global network
- Flexible working hours (in accordance with the internship supervisor)
- Possible further cooperation on the final thesis (in accordance with the supervisor)

Join us and become a part of the Volkswagen Family – We are looking forward to welcome you on board!

Please send your CV and motivation letter in English to:

Internship@volkswagen.com.cn

with subject "channel name (where you find this internship posting) – applicant name – university – applied position"

Moved by innovation, driven by people.